WELCOME TO THE NEXT EDITOR OF THE LOUNSBURY TREE

Let me introduce you, by way of the printed word, to the next editor of The Lounsbury Tree. Jim Jurista first learned about the newsletter from corresponding with some people who receive it, and later became quite involved through his connections on the Internet and additional mail. Then, after a phone call or two, Jim and I decided to get together and talk it over. Jim was so enthusiastic about taking on the job with his wife Aimee's help, she is an editor by profession. That was certainly good news to me. After publishing the newsletter since 1986/87, I felt it was time for a change. When Jim said "yes" it seemed like an answer to a prayer as I did not want to see it discontinued. Marie Lounsbury and Gertrude Dennis of the Albany, NY area started the newsletter in 1982. Thanks Marie and Gert for that great idea....Jim sent the bio below which will help you to know him better. Join with me in giving him a warm welcome. He is planning to attend the August 28-30 Reunion at the Balsam Shade. Plan to come and meet him in person.

Through letter writing and intensive Internet research, Jim found many other L researchers and became active helping others connect themselves to the larger tree.</th>

Now that you have read about Jim Jurista, I am sure that you will join me in saying that he is well qualified and has the technology to take The Lounsbury Tree into the 21st Century. As I leave the post officially, I want to say thank you to everyone who has submitted materials to help make the newsletter possible, and for all your heartwarming personal correspondence through the years.

Sincerely, Al Lounsbury

From the Editor's Notebook

1. It is time to start sending materials for future issues of The Lounsbury Tree to Jim Jurista. His addresses: regular mail, e-mail and World Wide Web appear in his bio at lower left. If all goes well, there should be a fall '98 issue with a report on the Balsam Shade reunion and the usual other features, plus more as Jim chooses. I am certain that he will want to hear from the subscribers with more materials which can be used.

2. I expect and hope that The Lounsbury Tree will have a new look as Jim takes over as editor. It doesn't have to be, but I would in no way object to any changes. He certainly has the technology to give it a new look and still keep some of the old—actual contributions (letters, family lines, etc.) in the subscriber's own handwriting, which I think gives the newsletter some personality. He agrees with that philosophy.

3. I have some back issues of the newsletters which range in cost from 30c to $2.00, depending on the number of pages and the cost of photocopying when they were/are reprinted. Anyone wishing back issues may contact: Albert Lounsbury, 212 Nelson Ave. Saratoga Springs, NY 12866-3423. Any proceeds from the sale of them, less postage, would go into the fund for publishing future issues of the newsletter. Jim and I will work that out.

4. SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS: No one needs to renew with this issue. Your last renewal includes this newsletter and hopefully the one in the fall following the reunion. Then, the fall '98 issue will have provision for renewing for the two issues for 1999. I will be discussing that with Jim Jurista. Perhaps there will be some funds from the reunion to help with the fall issue. It costs $300 to $350 for photocopying, envelopes, postage, related correspondence, etc. for one issue continued on page 3
Dear Al,

I am so sorry I have not answered your Sep letter, returned the yellow form from the Lounsbury Tree #28, never even read the last issue. My son has needed much of my spare time these past few months. Shortly after Christmas she came down with the flu and pneumonia that followed, rallied three times only to sink a bit lower, losing her battle March 1st. She was just two months short of 96 years...truly a strong, sturdy Connecticut Yankee. I will miss her so much.

The Dec/Jan flu epidemic was by far the worse I have ever seen, closing several hospitals, ambulances were everywhere. I have never seen anything like it. By some stroke of good luck Bill & I escaped, probably due to our flu shots.

After all the P.R. El Nino did arrive! La Habra had a total of 25" of rain, no damage to speak of however. Laguna Canyon is closer to the ocean and was devastated with 30" rain in 24 hr, turning the canyon into a massive mud flow. One woman was swept out of her house, her family upstate not realising she was gone, she came to wrapped in chicken wire with a stick in her mouth. She is fine! The soil is so saturated another large home just slid down the hill last night. The prediction is that El Nino will stick around until at least May, probably to be followed by, you guessed it, drought. What can I say California covers all situations.

Best regards,

Lavina

Dear Al,

Thank you for your letter of February 19th. I did get a response from Mr. Freund to your query. He was most helpful and traced from the original Robert Lounsbury to my Peter Lounsbury and Harriet Cantine to my great grandfather, Frederick Marsh

I do not remember for sure what I sent you before, so I am including the information I have beginning with Richard Lounsbury and Elizabeth Pennoyer.

Thank you for your reference to Lois Lounsbury. I will write her and see if she can supplement the information that I have. I know a little about the Cantine's but can always use help. I didn't realize that Brooktondale was in the Town of Caroline. Yes, the Caroline I mentioned is in Tompkins County, NY. My mother was born and grew up in Ithaca, New York.

Dear Mr. Lounsbury,

Thank you for the Family Newsletter #28. It was a treat to know that you are still doing this service for us (THE L's).

My check for $4 is enclosed to cover my subscription. I am now at a new address, but the Newsletter was forwarded to me.

Enclosed, also, are some LANSBERRY obituaries from my family, and a copy of the local newspapers article listing my grandfather, David Lounsberry's, sons and grandsons in WWI. All came home. Later, George went to Korea, where he was killed. An article about George, his son David Albert and David Albert's grandson Jeremy Michael Lounsberry age 2, are enclosed.

I am hopeful that more Pa. Lounsberry's are introduced to your newsletter and take part in submitting their history.

Since Anna Owens was married to my great, great, great grandfather Benjamin (1794-1875)
I have some information about Anna Lounsberry family and the Owens Cemetery. I took photos of the gravestones of John and Nancy Owens, and the stone which was placed at the entrance of the Owens Cemetery to be a memorial marker.

At the Bradford Cemetery, where Benjamin and Anna Lounsberry are buried (just outside the church) I often visit and think of my dad. Clair E. Lounsberry, walking with me and repeating his family history as he did to us. My grandfather, David, told of the former spelling of our name, Lounsberry, and in Bradford Cemetery there are more than one spellings. Because of grand-dad, I am able to recognize that we are part of the FAMILY of L's.

Sincerely,

Janice E. Graham

5. MAILING LABELS: Old mailing labels are being used for this mailing. Disregard the expiration date on the label, that will change in the fall. Some people sent extra money with the last renewal. Where there is enough for another year's subscription beyond 1998, it will be designated as such.

6. 1st, 2nd and 3rd International Reunions! There is some confusion why the 1998 Reunion at the Balsam Shade is the 3rd. When we planned the reunion in 1993 in Bolivar, NY, at first it was called the 1st International. Then it was called to our attention that the reunion in New Brunswick, Canada in the '80s was an International Reunion with many Lounsburys there from Canada and some from the U.S. Sooo, the one at Bolivar became the 2nd (the 1st in the U.S) and the one this year will be the 3rd. When and where will the 4th be?

THINK AUGUST 28-30,

NY FOR THE REUNION PLAN TO ATTEND AND BRING A FRIEND.
Queries

Dear Mr. Lounsbury,

I have just heard about you and your newsletter from Jim Jardin. I hope you can assist me. I am looking to connect with a Lounsbury researcher who is familiar with the line below. My grandmother's grandmother, Charlotte F. Lounsbury (1805-1874), lived in West Lebanon, NY. She married Abraham Lounsbury, who was born in 1805 in Lebanon, CT. They had four children. Charlotte died in 1874, and Abraham died in 1876. I have been unable to find information about their children.

I am particularly interested in finding information about the children of Charlotte and Abraham. I would be grateful for any help you can provide.

Sincerely,

Susan Godlewski

Dear Mr. Lounsbury,

Please put my name on your mailing list for the Lounsbury Reunion. I have heard from two different Lounsbury lines, and I would like to share information with them. I am interested in finding other Lounsbury families who may be descended from the same line.

FLASH

It is time to get this newsletter to the mail; I must stop adding pages. Anymore, and it will be over the 70c and 93c postage. The rest of the materials will be mailed at the fall issue. I received a "Thank You" about the Illinois Lounsbury family from Charlotte Lounsbury Motz. There is too much to include in a newsletter. However, if anyone would like more information about it, contact her direct at 2717 So. Pasfield, Springfield, IL 62704, or through the editor.
Bread has a pizza filling

Who says you can't make good bread? Mark Lounsbury of Richmond Street NW, in Walker, took a basic wheat bread recipe and came up with a pizza filling that is a specialty of Mark Lounsbury.

"Right now I'm experimenting with a peanut butter filling," says Mark, who does the marketing and most of the cooking for his wife, Ettie, and their two children (Bryan, 21, and Britton, 11). "It's just one of those things I got interested in, and it took off!"

"Though Mark's mom (Margaret Lounsbury of Lansing, Fla.) taught him how to cook, do laundry and iron," he says it was Pat Hartwick, the executive chef at the Amway Corporation, who assisted his development as a bread maker.

"On our breaks, a few of us go up and visit Pat," explains Mark, who works in distribution customer service. "He's his own pizzaiolo, and he tries out his recipes on us, and we talk about bread." A sports enthusiast as well, Mark says the pizza bread makes an excellent meal served with a salad, or a great appetizer by itself. "If I make three loaves Saturday morning," he beams with well-deserved pride, "they're gone by Sunday night."

Mark Lounsbury's pizza bread
- 2 packets fast rising yeast
- 3 cups warm (but not hot) water
- 2 tablespoons salt
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 to 3 cups wheat flour
- 3 to 4 cups flour

Filling:
- 1/4 to 1-lb pound shaved ham
- 4 cups shredded cheese (mozzarella, taco mix, Cheddar, or a combination)
- 1 can (14 ounces) pineapple tidbits, drained well

Using a wire whisk, combine the yeast and water. Let set a few minutes to proof. Add salt, sugar and the wheat flour. Work in the remaining flour gradually, adding as much as it takes to make workable dough. Turn out onto lightly floured surface and knead, adding more flour if necessary, until dough is smooth and elastic.

Place in a greased pan, cover with damp cloth, and let rise in a warm, draft-free place until it is doubled in size (30 minutes to 1 hour). Punch down dough and divide into 3 equal portions. On a lightly floured surface, roll each portion to make a large, flat rectangle (the short sides of the rectangle should be about 8-inches wide).

Distribute the ham, cheese and pineapple evenly over dough and roll up, starting with a short side. Seal edges of dough and place in greased bread pan (or spray pan lightly with vegetable coating). Repeat with remaining portions of dough and filling. Bake immediately (bread does not need a second rising) in an oven preheated to 300 degrees for 45-50 minutes. Serve warm cut into slices about 1/2 inches thick (6 to 8 slices a loaf). Makes 3 loaves of 2 to 4 servings each. Nutrition information per serving: 834 calories, 15 grams fat, 74 milligrams cholesterol, 3,310 milligrams sodium.

The pizza bread makes an excellent meal served with a salad, or a great appetizer by itself.

FROM THE MAILBAG

Ed. Note: With a few phone calls and some persistence, I am able to share the story at the left. It was sent to me by Sandra Lundie of Holland, MI. In order to get permission to use it, one thing led to another. I couldn't reach Mark in Walker, then I called his mother, Marge Lounsbury in Florida. She gave me his number at work in Michigan, and we talked. He said "yes" to using the story. I told him I had already been given permission by the Editor-in-Chief of the Grand Rapids Press. With all that, I hope you will make and try Mark's pizza bread. Forget the calories, fat, cholesterol and sodium and eat it. Eat one piece and give the rest to someone who doesn't have to worry about diet. I am going to make it as soon as this issue of the newsletter is in the mail. Thank you Mark for sharing this with many other Lounsbury "relatives."

4 Letter from John Freund 14 Aug 1996; Jonathan Lounsberry. Dates are apparently correct. However, Sarah Lockwood's parents were Edmund2 and Hannah (Scott) Lockwood, not Ephraim and Mercy (Sension) Lockwood. She was born in Stamford, not Norwalk. This error was corrected sixty odd years ago by Donald L. Jacobus who called the early parts of the 1889 Lockwood Genealogy "unbelievably inept work". I equate it with the "Elizabeth Dubois" horror, and I'm upset that I resurrected it. It appears that Michael2 and Henry2 L. became partners of Edmund3 Lockwood after they moved to the Stamford area. Edmund3 was a bachelor. His unmarried sister Sarah evidently lived with him and their widowed mother who died in 1707. It would appear that he then "bestowed" his 37-year-old sister upon his partner Michael L., some ten years her junior. Sarah must have been unusually fruitful to have had nine children (eight pregnancies) after so late a start. The documentary evidence is solid on this family. By the way, Edmund3 appears to have recognized what he owed to his sister, for he left her 800 pounds. I suspect he had continued to live with Michael's family or moved in after Michael died. I have changed records 24 and 25 to Edmund2 and Hannah Scott with appropriate data entries.

Lounsbery reunion Aug. 28-30, 1996, Greenville, NY

Dear Mr. Lounsbery:

Your notice of a Lounsbery reunion in the Spring 1996 Reunions magazine caught the eye of my wife who called it to my attention.

My name is Bob O'Hagan, and I live in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. I am a descendant of Rodney McDoole and Abigail Lounsbery. They are my great grandparents on my mother's side.

Rodney McDoole (born about 1815) married ABIGAIL LOUNSBERY (born about 1813 at Pony Hollow, Chenango, NY) in Sangamon, Illinois in about 1835. They had 13 children. The oldest child, Aza Gordon McDoole (born about 1838) married Susan Wheaton (born about 1838). Gordon and Susan had two children: Rodney (b. 1876) and Abigail Wheaton (b. 1883). Abigail Wheaton McDoole and Charles O'Hagan were married in Aurora, Illinois. I am the youngest child of that union.

Do you think that we might be related? I would very much appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Robert E. O'Hagan

Dear Mrs. Lounsbury,

I have been talking to Lloyd Lounsbury of Oakfield, Illinois, and he mentioned you write a newsletter for the Lounsbury family. Also that there will be a reunion this August at Springfield, Illinois.

Since my father died when I was 4 years old and we live in Springfield, Illinois, I really don't know the Oakfield Lounsbury's. My father's family is buried in Oakfield, Illinois.

I'm sure Lloyd has told you about the book of Eliza Lounsbury that was written in 1976 (but the step-up dates to my knowledge). From that book I can tell that Lloyd and I have the same great great grandparents, Morris and Esther Lounsbury.

This is my line:

Charlotte Lounsbury Motz

Father: Morris H. Lounsbury
Grandfather: Cyrus A. Lounsbury
Great grandfather: Morris Lounsbury
Great great grandfather: James Lounsbury
Great great great grandfather: Martin Lounsbury.

I would very much appreciate a copy of your newsletter and information about the August reunion. My sister Betty Moulton of Springfield was interested in attending.

I am enclosing $5.00 for the newsletter. (Though I thought the book was about $15.00 if it is more, I'll send it by return mail.)

I have heard the Lounsbury's are other than in Oakfield or Springfield, and wonder who they were.

From the Mailbag

Dear Albert:

I am enclosing the check for my subscription renewal. I am sorry I didn't get it sent sooner. My husband died in November and I have been a little preoccupied. We had been married fifty-five years.

In your last issue of the Lounsberry Tree I was very interested to see the names of my grandfather and several of my uncles. They were listed in the NAMES OF LOUNSBURYS FROM CANADA IN THE FIRST WORLD WAR, and NAMES OF LOUNSBURYS WHO DIED IN CANADA. My grandfather's name was Jacob Lounsbury and my uncles were John Henry, Charles, Earl, Frank and Rodney.

I still look forward to getting the Tree and read it from cover to cover. Keep up the good work.

Yours truly,

Ethel Lounsbery Galen

THE EDITOR

I have received considerable correspondence while doing the newsletter. I have not been able to answer much of it. I will try to catch up. Since I am listing my house for sale May 1, that promise may not hold. However, I will try to reply before too long.

Sincerely,

Al L.

Pennoyer Brothers

Colonization, Commerce, Charity in the Seventeenth Century

by Raymond H. Lounsberry

In the English-speaking world, the fall of Charles I and the advent of the Puritans had a far-reaching effect on the life-style of Englishmen and colonists alike. During those turbulent days of the seventeenth century, fortunes were made and lost with the rise and fall of kings.

Three lives affected by the events of the seventeenth century are chronicled in this work by Raymond H. Lounsberry. Pennoyer Brothers—Colonization, Commerce, Charity in the Seventeenth Century is a thoroughly documented, scholarly study of the often-misunderstood Pennoyer brothers who shaped and were shaped by, the events stirring England and America.

Robert Pennoyer, the youngest brother, decided to take his chances in the colonies and left for America during the reign of Charles I. His older brothers remained in England and made their fortunes during the reign of Cromwell, often by means of special dispensations granted by Parliament. William Pennoyer became active in the trading companies which were so influential in English foreign policy of the day. Having become a wealthy man, William left an estate whose income was to be used, in perpetuity, for charitable purposes. One provision of his will established a scholarship at Harvard for the descendants of his brother, Robert. Samuel likewise contributed a large part of his estate to charitable trusts.

(Across from front flap)

This book is rich in historical data of the period, shedding light on the life of the early colonists, and the political atmosphere of those days. The story of how these three brothers made their mark on their times makes fascinating reading.

About the Author

Raymond H. Lounsberry’s career indicates a man of many interests and talents. Receiving a Ph.D. degree from Cornell University in 1929, he has taught Economics at Cornell, Lawrence College, the University of Illinois, Alfred University, Russell Sage College and Dartmouth College. After his retirement as a professor in 1952, he became a dairy farmer and certified seed grower in Bridport, Vermont.

In addition to the above interest, he has become involved in historical, biographical and genealogical research. His interest in the Pennoyer brothers was first aroused when he discovered that he was entitled to the Pennoyer Scholarship at Harvard by right of inheritance.

Mr. Lounsberry is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho; he is former president of the Bridport chapter of the New England Milk Producers Association and a former member of the board of directors of the Champlain Valley Seed Growers Cooperative. He and his wife Lucille, have two children.

Barbara Scalet of Sussex, NJ a regular correspondent for The Lounsbury Tree wrote that her mother died recently; Barbara missed mail as she "had been back and forth to Cape Cod so often." Her mother was Ruth Nicholson Longwell.

In Barbara's note, she also suggested: "How about a section (in the newsletter) on e-mail addresses? Or, setting up a roots.com e-mail system? This will be something for the next editor, Jim Jurista to consider. That information could be added to the renewal form which will/should be done again in the fall. Then a list made from that information."

Editor's Note:
The obituary was submitted by Joyce C. Lounsbury, widow of Ira, 18 White Rock Circle, Tilton NH 03276. Ira's picture was in the last issue #28, page 16.

The editor did not have the obituary at that time. I was curious about Ira being born in Saratoga (Springs). Joyce explains it thus: "It is my understanding that Ira's parents had both lived in Peko-skill, NY and were married there, April 5, 1931. By Sept. 8, 1932 they were in Saratoga Springs, NY (the editor didn't arrive until 1956) where Wilbur Jr. was born. He is the Wilbur (Ira's brother) who lives in Laconia, NH. The father Wilbur Sr. was a store manager in Landau's, transferred in his job a couple of times, and then back to New York where he died." Joyce's letter has information about Ira's mother, Sarah Sanders. Anyone wishing that information may contact her at the above address or contact the editor.

We extend our sympathy to Joyce and her family. Ira's interest in the Lounsbery family and his keeping in touch through the newsletter will be missed.
