

The Lounsbury Tree

Family Newsletter #33

Spring 2000

Jim Jurista - Editor

Welcome!

Hello to everyone! Many of you are long-time subscribers, some of you are seeing the Tree for the first time. I wish all of you a happy new year. I'm glad – as I'm sure you all are – that Y2K computer issues were mostly vanquished before they became problems. My wife Aimee was sick on New Year's Eve – and I was at Christmastime – so we spent the holidays out of commission. I hope some of you had a good time and saw the new year in with style.

Our daughter Lydia is growing by leaps and bounds, and she's learning new skills every day. She enjoyed the snow we had and she loves watching and playing with our dog Biko and our cats Quinn and Paloma. She had fun during the holidays and she loved seeing many of her extended family members. She's now crawling, standing with help from furniture and people, clapping her hands, and babbling constantly.

Thanks to everyone for the kind letters and for your renewals. It's good to know that so many people read and enjoy the Tree. Thanks also for your holiday wishes and letters.

It's been said that he who lives by the sword dies by the sword. Well, he who lives by the computer may be burned by it, too – my laptop computer that I had been using to compose this issue of the Tree “crashed” and I did not have a backup copy, which means that I lost the whole thing and had to start over from scratch. As a result, this issue is considerably shorter (about half the size) than what you're used to seeing; the Fall issue will be back up to “normal”. I hope none of the Tree's faithful readership is too upset about the lack of quantity this time around.

I hope you enjoy this issue; I've included more items that were sent by readers, and I included a breakdown of the subscriber database so you can get a picture of who reads the Tree. See you in the fall!

Subscribing to The “L” Tree

Subscriptions to the Tree are $4 for United States residents and $5 (in U.S. funds) for Canadians. For that price, which covers materials and postage costs, you will receive two issues (one full year) of the Tree. Also, the full text of all issues since #30 (Fall 1998) is available on the Internet free of charge. See below for more information.

If you received this copy of the Tree in the mail, you will notice a date on the address label. This is the expiration date of your current subscription. Thank you to those of you that renewed through 1999; if your expiration date is 31-Dec-1999 please remember to send a check to cover your year 2000 issues.

Canadian Readers: I have difficulty cashing Canada Post money orders here in the U.S.A.; if you can send a check instead please do. If not, write to me and we can work something out, I'm sure.

To subscribe, please send a check made out to me (Jim Jurista) at the following address:

“L” Tree On-Line

Many of the readers of the Tree have access to home computers or to shared computers at libraries or schools. If you're in this group, you'll be happy to know that you can explore more family information on the Internet. Just point your web software to:

<http://www.dreamscape.com/jurista/Lounsbury>

Here you'll find information about reunions, genealogy resources, research assistance, and discussion groups. It's easy to use and fun; give it a try today!

If you'd like to reach the Tree by email, please write to 1tree@dreamscape.com; you can reach the editor personally at jurista@dreamscape.com. We receive frequent family history queries via e-mail, and most researchers willingly share their findings with others, so it's likely you'll get quick help by contacting us this way.

Many queries that get submitted via e-mail or on the Web site end up in the Queries feature in each issue of the Tree. So your e-mail makes it to the “real” world as well. If you have any questions about the technology or about how to use the Net for L family research, please don't hesitate to contact the editor at your convenience via e-mail or traditional postal mail.

My grandmother, Ella LONSBERY (spelling?) was very proud that she was related to Samuel HUNTINGTON, who was a signer of the Declaration of Independence. She can not claim to be a direct descendant because he died childless. However, he did adopt 2 of his brother Joseph's children. I am not very Internet savvy so I have not been able to find any link from myself to Huntington. Does anyone have a clue? Ella's married name was QUICK Her husband's first name was George. They had three children: Archie Williston, Walter Crandal, and James Spaulding.

February 22, 2000 from Susan Godlewski

Until now only circumstantial evidence indicated the family of Charlotte's dad. Cousin Mary has located documentary evidence, an 1866 deed, that proves the link of our Charlotte's dad, Abraham Lockwood, as the son of John Lockwood and Bethsheba Maibee, daughter of Abraham Maibee of Yorktown, NY. This deed lists the names of Abraham Lockwood's children including Charlotte Hays and a son named Zabud Lockwood.

Cousin Mary also discovered an 1835 deed that links Abraham Lockwood with Zabud Lounsbury. Zabud and Abraham jointly purchased the land next to Zabud's house on Highland Road in Peekskill.

Zabud Lockwood may have been named after the Zabud Lounsbury. It is reasonable that Abraham and Maria would name a son after a maternal grandfather who helped them buy property. It is possible that Zabud Lounsbury may be the father of Abraham Lockwood's wife, Maria Lounsbury, and grandfather of my Charlotte. These two deeds provide the only clues found to Maria's possible parentage.

Zabud Lounsbury's ancestry is [available on the web] at <http://home.att.net/~jg245lounsbry.htm#zabud>. This information, which had become lost to us, is now re-discovered. I don't want it to be lost again, so I want to provide each of you with an opportunity to get copies of every document for yourself, your children, and your grandchildren. Rather than Xerox & snail mail or clog your e-mail boxes with huge downloads, I have temporarily placed images of all the documents and transcriptions of documents on-line at <http://home.att.net/~susgod/charlotte/>. You can view every document and save or print out the items you want to keep. I hope you will find this as interesting as I do!

Correction: In Tree #32, Fall 1999, page 9, Elizabeth (Betsy) Lounsbury DOWNTON is listed in three separate listings as having lived in Indiana, when her home was in fact La Grange, Illinois. Thanks to subscriber Elva L. Lounsbury for bringing this to my attention.

Notable Lounsbury

Bill Mac Donald writes, "I was browsing through a December 1965 issue of the Canadian Forces Sentinel when I happened to admire a picture and then I looked at the text below it. I wonder who they are?"

In the most recent performances in the busy 1965-66 schedule of the Canadian Forces Showcase, MC Gordie Tapp and his troupe of radio and TV stars gladdened the eyes and charmed the ears of sailors at HMCS Naden and airmen at RCAF Station Comox, B.C. High on the list of favourites in the show were the pulchritudinous Lounsbury sisters, Joan and Barbara.

Family Lines

Over the time that I have been publishing the Tree, I have received a few requests for information about an Allen Lounsbury, who was born in New York state on 27 October 1800 and moved to, and was married in, Michigan. I recently received a fairly urgent request from Martha Matthews of Yakima, WA requesting quick turnaround of her request for Allen's ancestors. Her husband is descended from Allen, and while trying to find information about his line she came across several other people searching for the same information.

One of those people is Vola Lounsbury Hutson, from whom I received I received a wonderful letter. Following is an excerpt describing some of Alan's history.

Genealogy is not fatal – but it is a grave disease!

Dear Jim,

I cannot begin to tell you how pleased and excited I was to receive your letter and all of the material you sent me this week.

My father Fred Charles Lounsbury and I have been trying to find the family of Allen Lounsbury since I was about eighteen years old. (He had tried for years before that) He was ten years old when his grandfather (Allen) died so he did not get much information from him. He did tell him stories about his family back in New York. Ever since then, my father and I have tried to trace his family, but never could put the exact finger on it. Your material that you sent me this week does sound like we're on the right track. It is so interesting – I have read it and reread it with such pleasure. Thank you!

Allen came to Michigan in the 1830's. He was a driver of a circus wagon (loved horses). It was his job to use a sling shot to spur a slow horse on. He also drove a stage coach route from Detroit to Lansing about 1839. He was not a religious man, but he married Laura Mathers (who came from Mendon, New York). She was a minister's daughter. They had eight children – the eldest, Charles Henry Lounsbury born Sept. 25 1839, died Feb. 9, 1919, was my grandfather.

I have the entire line of the Lounsburies (of Allen). There were 8 children. Grandpa Charles was the eldest, Clark (killed in Battle of Shiloh), Maryette, John, Emily (Emma), Allen DeWitt, Ira Eugene, and Albert. My grandfather Charles and his sister Maryette had a double wedding Feb. 22, 1866 with another brother and sister (Loraine Latson (my grandmother) and Edward Eugene Latson. So you see, my family was a bit mixed up (but a wonderful family).

I have my grandfather Charles' war records. He was also in the battle of Shiloh and when the war was over, he and another man walked all the way from Shiloh back to Michigan (no transportation in those days).

My mother used to write to Lillian Wright who lived in Rochester (I think) who was apparently a relative of Allen Sr. This could be a clue. I know nothing more about them. Allen Sr. could not read nor write, so Mather wrote for him but somehow we slipped up and didn't know the exact relationship.

I was so surprised and pleased to hear from Martha Matthews about 2 months ago. I knew of her mother-in-law's family but had lost track of that branch of the family.

I will be happy to help you in any other information you might like.

Regards,
Vola Hutson
