Lounsbury Lingo

You will notice a wide variety of surname spellings associated with the Lounsbury Tree. The most common spelling is “Lounsbury” though “Lounsberry” and “Lounsbery” are also prevalent. In 99% of researched cases, Canadians and Americans with these surname spellings are linked by common ancestors: Richard Lounsbury and Elizabeth (Pennoyer) Lounsbury of what is now Rye, NY, who were married there in 1670. There are many other surname variations who fit our extended family tree, including Lansbury (though apparently not the famous actress Angela Lansbury), Lainspeary, and Lonsberry.
For simplicity, we use the letter “L” to denote the surname regardless of its spelling. Hence the phrasing “L” Tree at the top of this page.

Maine Military Men 1917-1918;

Ralph Emerson Lounsbury

While searching on the internet I came across the following entries for Ralph Emerson Lounsbury.

University of Washington - World War II Casualties and the years they attended UW

Criteria for inclusion on the list: attendance at the University of Washington, death in or in direct support of the allied forces, time of death between 1939 and 1945. Ralph Emerson Lounsbury, Jr.: 1933-38

( NOTE: There is also a Ralph E. Lounsbury, Jr. listed in Seattle dead in WW2. Also note: World War II and Korean Conflict Veterans Interred Overseas)
Who was he and what are his connections within the Lounsbury family. Since he was called Junior it can be assumed that his father was also had the same name. I had previously found a Ralph E. Lounsbury born 30 November 1878 in New York State and married on the 30 Nov 1904 Wyoming, Hamilton, Ohio to Clara Hubbell Davis. Was the Junior’s father the Ralph E. Lounsbury who married Clara Hubbell Davis? The 1920 United States for Seattle, Kings Co., Washington had a Ralph Lounsbury age 42, born in Ohio, whose father was born in New York State, he died 10 January 1944. This Ralph’s wife was named Clara, age 41 born in Ohio. They had two son Darwin, age 13 and Ralph E. Jr. age 4 born Washington state. An assumption could be made that this is our navy person’s father. This is further supported by The World War One Draft Registration cards. There is a Ralph Emerson Lounsbury, Seattle, King, Washington b. 23 March 1876. He lists his nearest relative as his wife Clara D. Lounsbury, their address being 432 Malden Ave. Seattle. At that time he was employed at a canvas glove company at 1019 Post St., Seattle, WA. I would be quite sure that we have established the two Ralph’s, but now I did not have who Ralph Sr.’s father was.

Next to earlier censuses. The 199 US Census for Ohio, Hamilton, Springfield listed a Lounsbury born in Feb 1836. Unfortunately the first name was not clear and the initial could have been N. His wife’s name was also not clear but could have been Linda, she was born in Aug 1840. They had a son Ralph born March 1876 who was born in Ohio and his parents born in New York. Since the 1890 census records were wholly or partially destroyed I next went to the 1880 census. In the 1880 US Census for Ohio, Hamilton, Cincinnati there was listed a Lounsbury, initials looked like V.W, age 43 a doctor, born New York. His wife’s names was also not clear but looked like Lidie, they had a daughter Carrie E. born NY, and two sons, Osmar(?) born NY and Ralph (C)?) age 4, born Ohio. The 1860 US Census for New York Green, Durham listed a O.W. Lounsbury, 25, merchant, wife Lydia age 20, daughter Carrie E. age 2. There was also an Edwin listed with then as a clerk.

My records show an Omer W. Lounsbury, born 9 February 1836 at Broome, Schoharie, New York State, died 5 Aug 1904 at Cincinnati, Ohio. I have his occupation listed as a doctor. His wife as Lydia E. Hotchkiss. Omer was the son of Sylvanus Lounsbury, 1799 – 1884 and Cecilia Reeve 1806 – 1881, and Omer had a brother Edwin, both Sylvanus and Cecilia were born in Rensselaerville, Albany Co., New York State.

Can anyone confirm my suspicions that this is the connect of Ralph Emerson to the earlier Lounsburys?

CHARLES EDWARD LOUNSURY
In the history of Merced County the name of Charles Edward Lounsbury stood for energy, industry and progressiveness, and when he suddenly passed away the city of Merced lost one of it most popular and capable business men. He was born in Ft. Collins, Colo., on April 19, 1884, a son of Rufus and Emma (Rowley) Lounsbury. In 1892 the family located in Nevada, where they remained for six years, when they removed to San Jose, Cal. There the father passed away. The mother died in Merced on December 13, 1924.
Charles Edward Lounsbury received his schooling in Nevada and in San Jose, Cal. He helped his father on the home ranch near San Jose until he went to San Francisco, where he became apprenticed as a machinist with the Union Iron Works. He remained in San Francisco for ten years, most of the time being spent in the automobile business, having charge of several large shops. In 1910 he removed to Merced to take charge of the Barcroft Garage, and after nine months he purchased the business with C. Jones as a partner; after one year R. Shaffer bought the interest of Mr. Jones and the business was conducted under the firm name of Lounsbury & Shaffer until March 1, 1923, when the partnership was dissolved, Mr. Shaffer taking over the Ford automobile agency. Mr. Lounsbury continued at the old place of business, having the agency for the Buick and Cadillac automobiles. The Lounsbury Garage & Machine Works is the largest of its kind between San Francisco and Los Angeles; the business has grown until additional room 50 x 150 feet is contemplated on a lot purchased for that purpose. Thirty people are employed in the different departments of the business. The mechanical department is equipped with lathes, cylinder grinders, drill presses, with a 250-ton hydraulic press; the electrical department is equipped with all testing and charging devices; battery department is equipped with charging machine. The company maintains a large accessory department with a $15,000 stock, and a $5000 stock of tires. The company has a large stock of parts for all makes of cars as well as a large stock of electrical parts; a paint shop is also conducted, as well as a repairing department, vulcanizing department, greasing and oiling department, garage and storage for 150 cars.
By his first marriage, Mr. Lounsbury had two children, Earl and Gladys. His second marriage united him with Miss Blanche McCrory, a native of Nebraska; and they had two children, William Miller and Harold Edward. Mr. Lounsbury was democratic in his politics and fraternally was identified with the Masonic and Sciots lodges, and locally was a member of the Chamber of Commerce. His death on December 7, 1923 removed one of Merced's most progressive and esteemed citizens. GENEALOGY OF THE GREENLEE FAMILIES IN AMERICA, SCOTLAND, IRELAND AND ENGLAND WITH ANCESTORS OF ELIZABETH BROOKS GREENLEE AND EMILY BROOKS GREENLEE ALSO GENEALOGICAL DATA ON THE McDOWELLS OF VIRGINIA AND KENTUCKY BY RALPH STEBBINS GREENLEE AND ROBERT LEMUEL GREENLEE CHICAGO, ILLINOIS Privately printed 1908
GERTRUDE daughter of Ralph Stebbins Greenlee and Elizabeth Brooks, was born December 26, 1869 at Chicago, Illinois; married September 26, 1893 at Chicago, JAMES ALLEN LOUNSBURY, born June 8, 1867 at Weathersfield, Hartford Co., Connecticut, son of Cooke Lounsbury and Isabella Spaulding. Children Ralph Greenlee Lounsbury, born January 20, 1896. Elizabeth Lounsbury, born May 5, 1899. GERTRUDE GREENLEE attended the public schools of Chicago until her fourteenth year, when she entered Lake Forest Seminary at Lake Forest, Illinois. Her studies there were interrupted to some extent by a trip to Europe in 1886, and one to Mexico. On this account she did not graduate with the class she originally entered, but with the class of 1890. In June, 1890, immediately after her graduation, she started with her parents on a journey around the world, spending considerable time in Japan, China, India, Egypt and Palestine, returning to Chicago in November, 1891. After her marriage she continued to reside in Chicago.

JAMES ALLEN LOUNSBURY, eldest son of Cooke and Isabella Spaulding Lounsbury, was born in 1867 at Wethersfield, Connecticut. Early in 1868, the family removed from Wethersfield to Meriden, Connecticut, where they lived until 1875, when they removed to Hartford. He was educated in the public schools of Hartford. In September, 1887, he entered the employ of the Waterhouse Electric Company of Hartford. In 1889 this company was bought out by the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Mr. Lounsbury was retained by the Westinghouse Company, and remained with them several years as traveling engineer, with headquarters, first at Pittsburgh, and later (1889) at Chicago. He left the Westinghouse Company in May, 1892, to take the position of Engineer in charge of Incandescent Lighting at the World's Columbian Exposition held in Chicago in 1893; and was connected with the Exposition until January 1, 1894. He was engaged in the manufacture of electrical apparatus, as president of the Lounsbury Manufacturing Company at Chicago, until 1897, when the plant and business were entirely destroyed by fire. In 1899, he entered the employ of Greenlee Brothers & Company, manufacturers of woodworking machinery, and in 1903 was elected Vice President of that company, which office he still holds.

Left to cherish Orville’s memory are his children Brian Lounsberry and Shirley Trollope, Marilyn and Hanley Gates, Bruce and Joyce Lounsberry, Donald and Vicky Lounsberry, Edward and Dorothy Lounsberry, Irene and Allen Nicoll, Ron and Bonnie Lounsbury, Evan and Janice Lounsbury, as well as sixteen grandchildren and six great grandchildren. He is also survived by one sister Kathleen Hurst, one brother Allan and wife Raebelle and one sister-in-law Beryl Jones, as well as numerous nieces, nephews, cousins and friends. Orville was predeceased by his wife Megan in 1990, by three sons, David, Gerald, and Larry, by his mother Myrtle (Dobbin) Lounsberry and father Oscar Lounsbury: by four sisters and three brothers-in-law: Vera and Oliver Dash, Mabel and George McGill, Mildred and Jack Campbell, and Velda Lounsberry and by one brother Elmer Lounsbury and brother-in-law Wes Hurst. Orville was the 4th child of a family of eight, born on December 7, 1912 to Oscar and Myrtle Lounsbury. He was born in the Treherne District and lived all of his life in the area. On May 22, 1941 he married Megan Jones of Winnipeg, and together they were blessed with a family of eleven children. Orville and Megan lived on a farm northwest of Treherne, where he resided until 1991, when he moved to Treherne. Over the last few years of his life he resided in the Treherne Villa and Treherne Personal Care Home. Orville loved to dance to the old tyme music, the old tyme waltz being his favorite. Many an evening was spent attending dances, whether it be at a barn dance, at a hall, or at a house party. No distance was too far to travel. The family can recall Orville singing a little ditty, particularly two songs come to their minds, that were his favorites, these having been handed down to him by his mother. They were “I’ll Be All Smiles Tonight Love”, and “Johnny Sands”. Then in the 60’s, a song that was on the hit parade at the time, was also added to his list of favorites “There Goes My Everything”. Orville always had a special interest in farming and enjoyed gardening, giving away a lot of his vegetables. He was known for his sense of humor and quick wit and often brought a chuckle to others. Anyone who wanted to know any family history or anyone birthday’s or anniversary, had only to give Orville a call. Through the years Orville kept up to date on current affairs, by reading magazines and newspapers, which he read from front to back, by watching the news and participating in numerous chats with family and friends. Orville had a great appreciation for the staff at the Tiger Hills Health Center for all the care and kindness shown to him during his residency there. He enjoyed participating in the many activities and the handi-van rides. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. The Merritt Settlement was located in Grimsby Township, Lincoln County, Ontario, near Smithville. The settlement was located around the church west of Smithville immediately below the words Range II on the map. Today there is little indication of the settlement, the church is gone, only the cemetery remains. It was here that it is believed that Robert Lounsberry (1766-1821) and his family first settled. His father Isaac may have been the Isaac Lounsberry who was in Butler’s Rangers who claimed land in what is now Ontario the location of which has not been determined. If his father was this same Isaac he must have later returned to United States as he died there. The cemetery contains several early Lounsberry graves, unfortunately many of the stones are now eroded beyond recognition. Many of the people in the area came from the lower New York State area after the War of Independence. The map is a portion the Grimsby Township map in the Historical Atlas of Lincoln & Welland Counties by H.R. Page published in 1876 and was downloaded from the McGill University Digital Collections website http://digital.library.mcgill.ca/countyatlas/.
