Lounsbury Lingo

You will notice a wide variety of surname spellings associated with the Lounsbury Tree. The most common spelling is "Lounsbury" though "Lounsberry" and "Lounsbery" are also prevalent. In 99% of researched cases, Canadians and Americans with these surname spellings are linked by common ancestors: Richard Lounsbury and Elizabeth (Pennoyer) Lounsbury of what is now Rye, NY, who were married there in 1670. There are many other surname variations who fit our extended family tree, including Lansbury (though apparently not the famous actress Angela Lansbury), Lainspeary, and Lonsberry.

For simplicity, we use the letter "L" to denote the surname regardless of its spelling. Hence the phrasing "L" Tree at the top of this page.

THE PARSONS - LOUNSBURY HOUSE

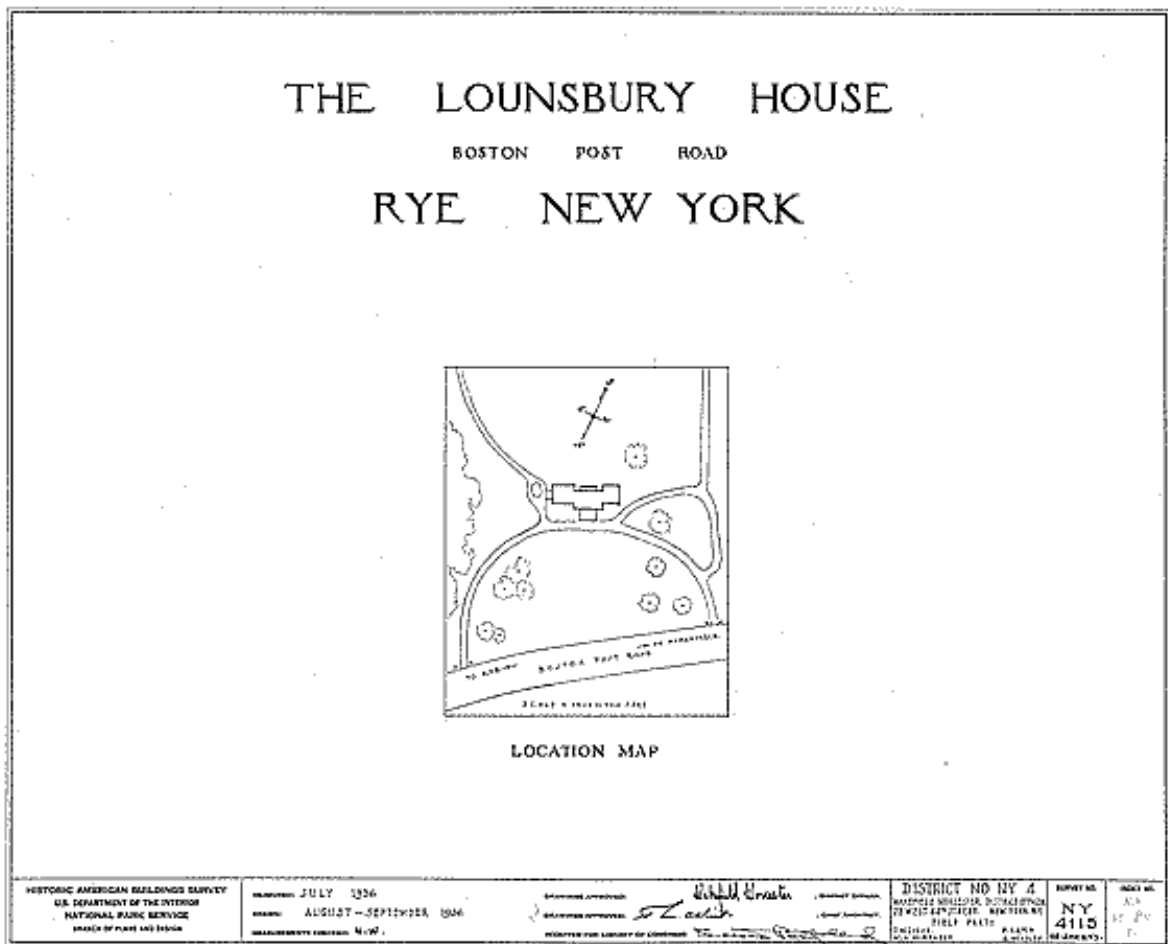

The Parsons-Lounsbury House is a wonderful example of the Greek Revival architectural style that once flourished in Westchester County New York. The house was built between 1830 and 1840 by Edward L. Parsons and is listed on the National Historic Register.

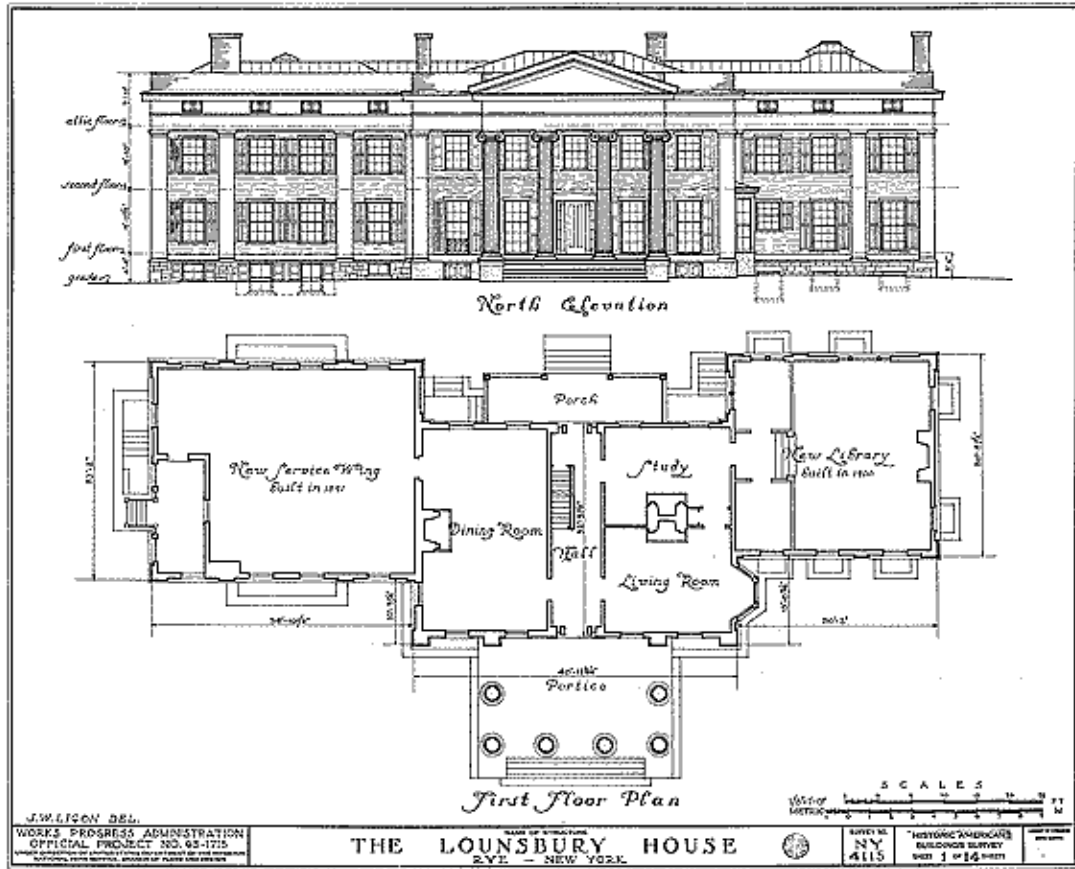

The house has remained in the possession of the Parsons family from 1830 to present, except for a slight interruption from 1850 to 1858 when John Edward Parsons acting on behalf of Matilda Parsons, the widow of Edward L. Parsons, sold the property to Wm. R. Talbot. Wm. R. Talbot remained the owner of the house and farm until he sold it to James H. Parsons, a member of the original family.

The land that Edward L. Parsons built the house on is traced by the last will of Richard Lounsbury dated 2 January 1690. This shows that the farm and land were in the possession of the Lounsbury family prior to this date. In the will the farm and land were left to Richard's wife, Elizabeth and his daughter, Mary.

According to land records the farm remained in the Lounsbury family through 1723 as the name of John Lounsbury appears in records indicating he had possession of the farm or at least an interest in it. Records are a bit confusing from 1608 – 1761 where they indicate that the Purdy and Hart families had possession at different times. In 1810, John Purdy and wife sold the land to John Hartell. In the years between 1810 to 1830, the land changed hands from Hartell to Mary Jane Delancy, widow of Thomas Delancy, to Joseph Chadwick until the land was finally purchased by Edward L. Parson.

The house was built in an era that saw a spurt of Greek Revival architecture. It features a portico on the front elevation and is three stories of wood construction with a stone foundation. As can be seen by the drawings and photo that follows. (courtesy of Liz Maloy)

IVAN HUGH LOUNSBURY 1923 - 2011 It is with deep sadness that we announce the passing of Ivan Lounsbury on Thursday, June 2, 2011 at Grace Hospital, Winnipeg, Manitoba, after a courageous struggle with cancer. Ivan was born on August 27, 1923 to Hugh Lloyd Lounsbury (1886-1963) and Ida Lealine Dobbin (1888-1983) in Treherne, MB. His grandparents were Thomas Lounsbury and Sarah Marlatt, who immigrated from Tillsonburg, ON about 1890, and Alexander Dobbin from Ireland about 1869 and Laurinda Holmes from Paisley, ON. The families lived in the Ladysmith District, near Lavenham, on the north side of the Assiniboine River. Ivan was predeceased by his grandparents, parents and siblings: Lyle Clifford (1907-1992) who married (1928) to Gladys Ivy Syms, 1912-1990. They had six children. Lola Laurinda Lounsbury (1912-2005) married (1930) to Thomas Eldridge English (1908-1984) they had five children.

Thomas Lorne Lounsbury, 1913-1914. Ivan attended Matchetteville School for Grade 1, and then Ladysmith for Grades 2 to 9. Then he moved to Winnipeg for Grades 10 and 11 in the old Gordon Bell School (now Mulvey School). When Lyle and Gladys moved to Niagara Falls, Ivan proceeded there for Grades 12 and 13 at Niagara Falls Collegiate Vocational Institute. He returned to Winnipeg to complete Normal School on William Avenue and Gertie Street in 1945 to 1946. He also achieved a Bachelor of Pedagogy from University of Manitoba. Ivan loved the farm, working with plants, and being in the outdoors. He worked in a market garden in Niagara Falls for a while, then with Park Davis Drug Distributors in Toronto. However, the call of the west drew him back to teach Grades 7 to 11 on permit from 1944 to 1945 in Gypsumville, MB. After his one year at Normal School, he returned there again from 1946 to 1949. This teaching career next took him to Elm Creek, MB, 1949 for Grades 7 to 8, where he remained as Principal from 1955 to his retirement in 1981. He may have retired from the classroom, but he continued teaching and mentoring for an equally long period of his life. Ivan travelled across Canada and in many parts of the USA. In addition he vacationed in Acapulco, Mexico, Barbados, Cuba, St. Lucia, and Monaco. Friends will know that he loved his cars, and was constantly ready to drive friends and relatives anywhere they needed to go. He covered many miles from Elm Creek to the Lavenham farm on weekends. Then later when he lived in Winnipeg from 1967 he drove regularly to school in Elm Creek. Family was very important, both his roots connections and his adopted families. He attended family reunions in Boulder, Colorado, Columbus, Ohio, Chicago, Illinois, and The Dells, Wisconsin and in Winnipeg. He prepared a family history of the Lounsbury-Marlatt family. Ivan's hobbies included casinos, driving his car(s), visiting friends, cooking dinners, talking on the phone, gardening, bowling, and old time music. He played the piano very well, and enjoyed dancing to old time music. Ivan was a member of the Masonic Order in Elm Creek. Sincerest thanks to the doctors and staff at Grace Hospital for their care and concern. Also to the friends who attended him daily during his stay in the hospital. A memorial service will be held on Friday, June 10, 2011 at 2:00 p.m. in Winnipeg at Neil Bardal Funeral Centre, 3030 Notre Dame Ave. (across from Brookside Cemetery). A graveside service will be held on Saturday, June 11, 2011 at 11:00 a.m. at Bethel Cemetery, Treherne, MB. In lieu of flowers, friends are encouraged to make a donation to the Canadian Cancer Society, Manitoba Division, 193 Sherbrook St., Winnipeg, MB R3C 2B7 or to a charity of your choice. Rest in peace, dear soul. You have lived a good life, and many people have loved you. NEIL BARDAL FUNERAL CENTRE (204) 949-2200 nbardal.mb.ca

Who are the Ancestors of Emma Louise Lounsbury?

Emma Louise Lounsbury, born 07 Jun 1868 in Monsey, NY; died 07 Jan 1942 in Woodhaven, Queens Co., NY. She was the adopted daughter of Sanford Lonsberry and Susan. Sanford was born about 1827 in Connecticut. Emma married John Thaddeus Brown. He was born 27 Jul 1872 in Brooklyn, NY, and died 28 Oct. 1947 in Woodhaven, Queens Co., NY.

Her siblings were:

- i. William Harvey Lounsbury, born 06 Aug 1855 in NY; married Sarah Levina Youmans 25 Dec 1877; born 06 Aug 1860 in NY; died 04 Jan 1937.
- ii. Elizabeth Lonsberry, born Abt. 1858 in NY.
- iii. Fred Lonsberry, born Abt. 1867.

Was Sanford her adoptive father the same person as Peter P. Sanford Lounsbury, born on the 15th of October 1816 the son of Seely Lounsbury (1786 – 1847)?

Who was my g-g-g-g-Grandmother? by Bill Mac Donald

There is some confusion as to the wife of Robert Lounsbury 27 Aug 1766 – 1821. In close family circles it is generally accepted that he married Elizabeth Pinckney about 1789 and they are both buried in West Bethany, Genesee County, New York. However, many records have him marrying Rachel Lent 03 AUG 1794 in the Hanover Presbyterian Church, Yorktown, Westchester, New York. This information would appear to originate in the records contained in the book "The Journal of the Reverend Silas Constant." This book was published by Emily Warren Roebling and edited by Josiah Granville Leach and printed in 1903. Reverend Constant was the pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Yorktown, NY. Constant does not give any details other than the date of marriage although a footnote ties it to Robert born in 1766. I think that it should be Robert Lounsbury born about 1768. Copies of Constant's Journal are readily available on the Internet. It may be that the footnotes were put in at the time of publication and based on a faulty assumption.

I think that the Robert Lounsbury who married Rachel Lent is actually ROBERT⁶ LOUNSBURY (ROBERT⁵, ISAAC⁴, JOHN³, RICHARD² LOUNSBERRY, RICHARD¹ LOWNSBOROUGH) born about 1768 in North Castle, Westchester, NY, and died 29 Oct 1841 in Seneca Falls, Seneca, NY.¹

He married RACHAEL LENT 03 Aug 1794 in Westchester, NY. She was born Abt. 1775 in Westchester, NY, and died 10 Dec 1863 in Seneca Falls, Seneca, NY.

There was a claim made by a Robert Lounsbury in the Index of Awards on Claims of the Soldiers of the War of 1812 page 300. Robert Lounsbury; Seneca Falls, New York amount allowed 58.00

The 1830 US Census has a Robert Lounsbury in Venice; Cayuga, New York. The 1840 US Census has a Robert Lounsbury - Seneca Falls, New York. Rachel appears on the Agricultural Census 1850 Seneca Falls. Robert appeared in the Cayuga Patriot as dying age 71 years and 10 months 29 Oct 1841

Seneca County, NY, Will Testators - Rachael Lounsbury, Seneca Falls, NY

Somewhere I obtained the following information that the children of ROBERT LOUNSBURY and RACHAEL LENT were:

- i. WILLET LOUNSBURY, d. 18 May 1843, Auburn, Cayuga, NY.
- ii. WILLIAM LOUNSBURY, b. about 1800, New Castle, Westchester, NY; d. 06 Jun 1869, Seneca Falls, Seneca, NY.

If this is the Robert that married Elizabeth Pinckney he was having another family at the same time. I hate to think that my ancestor was a bigamist.

WILLET LOUNSBURY died 18 May 1843 in Auburn, Cayuga, NY. He married SOPHRONIA HULL 25 Dec 1831 in Utica, Oneida, NY. She died Bef. 1868 in Syracuse, Onondaga, NY. Early Marriages and Deaths from Newspapers Published in Central New York and from the Records of the Pioneer Association of Onondaga County Collected by Rev. Dr. William M. Beauchamp Selected and Arranged by Mrs. Grace Beauchamp Lodder of the Syracuse Public Library, April, 1933. has Lounsbury, Willet, editor of the Cayuga Patriot, Auburn. May 18, 1843, in his 35th year.

Children of WILLET LOUNSBURY and SOPHRONIA HULL are:

- i. ROBERT W. LOUNSBURY, b. Auburn, Cayuga, NY; d. Bef. 1869.
- ii. CAROLINE LOUNSBURY, b. Auburn, Cayuga, NY.
- iii. MARY LOUNSBURY, b. Auburn, Cayuga, NY.
- iv CHARLES H. LOUNSBURY, b. about 1837, Auburn, Cayuga, NY; d. Jan 1870, Philadelphia,

Philadelphia, PA.

WILLIAM⁷ LOUNSBURY (ROBERT⁶, ROBERT⁵, ISAAC⁴, JOHN³, RICHARD² LOUNSBERRY, RICHARD¹ LOWNSBOROUGH) was born Abt. 1800 in New Castle, Westchester, NY, and died 06 Jun 1869 in Seneca Falls, Seneca, NY. He married BETSEY BURCH. She was born about 1800, and died 18 Nov 1868 in Seneca Falls, Seneca, NY.

Children of WILLIAM LOUNSBURY and BETSEY BURCH are:

- i. CHARLES H.⁸ LOUNSBURY, b. 03 Sep 1822, Venice, Cayuga, NY; d. 03 Aug 1824, Venice, Cayuga, NY.
- ii. DAVID H. LOUNSBURY, b. 22 Oct 1823, Venice, Cayuga, NY; d. 30 Nov 1827, Venice, Cayuga, NY.
- iii. EZRA LOUNSBURY, b. about 1830, Venice, Cayuga, NY; d. before 1869, Seneca Falls, Seneca, NY.

Children of ROBERT LOUNSBURY and ELIZABETH PINCKNEY are:

- i. JULIA⁷ LOUNSBURY, d. WFT Est. 1802-1880.
- ii. SARAH LOUNSBURY.
- iii NANCY LOUNSBURY, b. 1789
- iv TOWNSEND LOUNSBURY, b. 24 Jul 1789, New York State, USA; d. 19 Jul 1869, Grimsby Township, Canada.

The answer to this problem might lie in the records of Cayuga and Seneca Counties in New York State, in particular the Cayuga Patriot newspaper of which a Lounsbury was the editor for a period of time. Perhaps someone might have access to these records and be able to clarify which Robert Lounsbury was married to Rachel Lent.

Able Seaman Frederick Murray Lonsberry

Able Seaman Frederick Murray Lonsberry of the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve, one of the Lonsberrys who traces his ancestry to Africa, died on the 7th of May 1944 when the Canadian River class Frigate Valleyfield was torpedoed, broke in two and sank about 50 nautical miles off of Cape Race, Newfoundland by U548. Forty-three survivors were picked up by HMCS Giffard five of the survivors died of exposure, in total 125 of her crew including her Commanding Officer went down with the ship.

U548 was in turn sunk on 19 April, 1945 in the North Atlantic south-east of Halifax, in position 42.19N, 61.45W by depth charges from the American destroyer escorts USS Reuben James and USS Buckley.

Frederick was born on the 28th of December 1922 the son of Angus Lonsberry and Ethel Rachel McNutt.

Canadian Passenger Lists, 1865-1935

Pte. Chas. Jacob Lounsbury, arrived in Victoria, British Columbia aboard the Canadian Pacific ship Mouteagle on the 5th of May 1919 from Vladivostok, Russia. The Mouteagle was a Canadian Pacific ship of 6,955 tonnage, placed in service in 1903 and scrapped in 1923.

The Canadian Expeditionary Force (Siberia) was the sixth-largest overseas military force in Canada's history.¹ It was also Canada's first foray in the Far East and the country's major intervention in the Russian Civil War. Smaller Canadian contingents served at the ports of Murmansk and Arkhangelsk in northwestern Russia (500 and 600 soldiers, respectively) and at Baku on the Caspian Sea (in present-day Azerbaijan, where 41 Canadians joined British troops from Baghdad to occupy the Caspian oil fields). What were the Canadians doing in Russia?

What brought 4,200 Canadians to Vladivostok during one of the darkest moments in the city's history? How did the social and geopolitical impulses of the First World War and the Russian Revolution lead to the deployment of soldiers from Canada and a dozen other Allied countries to Siberia and the Russian Far East.

This was the context in which Canada's Prime Minister, Sir Robert Borden, committed troops for Russia. Borden spent the summer of 1918 in London, where the Imperial War Cabinet decided to intervene on four fronts surrounding the Bolshevik government. Because of Vladivostok's geographic proximity from Canada's West Coast, 1,500 British troops were placed under the Canadian command.

Canada's privy council approved the formation of the Canadian Expeditionary Force (Siberia). An array of foreign troops converged on Siberia and the Russian Far East: 70,000 Japanese, 12,000 Americans, 2,000 Italians, 12,000 Poles, 4,000 Serbs, 4,000 Romanians, 5,000 Chinese, and 1,850 French troops. This was combined with the Czecho-Slovak Legion and White Russian forces.

On 12 August 1918, Canada's privy council had passed Order-in-Council PC 1983, approving the formation of the CEFS, which consisted of 4,209 men and one woman — nursing matron Grace Elrida Potter. In a diplomatic coup for Canada, 1,500 British troops in the Middlesex and Hampshire regiments were placed under the command of Canadian Major-General James H. Elmsley.

The CEFS was mobilized from every province. It consisted of two infantry battalions in the 16th Canadian Infantry Brigade, as well as machine gun, artillery, and engineering companies and smaller units of bakers, butchers, medics, and other supporting troops. Two hundred Mounties from the Royal North West Mounted Police (RNWMP) deployed to Vladivostok, along with 300 horses.

One third of Canada's Siberian troops were conscripts, compelled to serve under the Military Service Act 1917. Their mobilization coincided with the Armistice that ended fighting on the Western Front, as well as the "Spanish Flu" that ravaged civilian and soldier populations across Canada and the globe. As the troops converged on barracks at Victoria, New Westminster, and Coquitlam, British Columbia, dissent encouraged by local labour radicals erupted into mutiny.

The Canadians evacuated Vladivostok on four ships between May and June 1919. Before leaving, a memorial stone was commemorated at the Marine Cemetery on Monastirskaia Hill southeast of the city, alongside the graves of fourteen soldiers who died in Vladivostok. One of these soldiers was Private Edwin Stephenson, an Anglican priest in peacetime who served as a medic with the advance party to Omsk. Stephenson contracted small pox on his return to Vladivostok, dying at the Second River Hospital a week before his ship was scheduled to sail home. Five other soldiers had died at sea.

INQUIRY

Hello,

I am researching the Lounsbury Family from New York who moved to Ohio and then Indiana by about 1845. I am certain of my ancestor, Nehemiah Lounsbury Sr. who I think was born in New York on January 29, 1800. He married Hester (Maiden Name Unknown) by at least 1830 and I think he was living in New York in Victor, Ontario, New York in the 1840 Census. With this link, I think his father may have been Henry Lounsbury who was born about 1769 in New York and was living in Victor, Ontario, New York in the 1850 Census with his daughter Sarah Aldridge after which he died.

I am not certain who the wife of Henry was at this time but suspect he is the same Henry Lounsbury who was married to Phebe Ferris (they had three known children: Benjamin, Sarah, and Henry Jr). I am trying to prove that they also had Nehemiah Sr. as the names of his children repeat from Henry's family and ancestors and they lived in the same area at the same time suggesting a relationship.

Nehemiah Sr. moved his family to Ohio (near Richland County) and then on to Jackson Township, Steuben County, Indiana (near Flint, Indiana) by about 1845. He and many of his sons seem to have been shoemakers. As I said, he married Hester by at least 1830 in New York and they had the following children listed below. Nehemiah Sr. died on January 16, 1872 in Jackson Township, Steuben County, Indiana:

Phebe (or Phoebe) J. Lounsbury – born on February 16, 1832 in Weedsport, Cayuga, New York and married Daniel and then Darius Sams in 1849 and 1853, brothers in Steuben County, Indiana. She died on April 21, 1908 in Steuben County, Indiana.

- 1) Nehemiah (or Nathaniel) Lounsbury Jr – born on January 19, 1834 in New York and married Louisa (maiden name unknown) and later Lena A. Krum in 1895 in LaGrange County, Indiana and died on October 18, 1907 in Steuben County, Indiana. Nehemiah Jr. briefly served in the Union Army in Company F. 152nd Indiana as he enlisted near Flint, Steuben County, Indiana. His last name was spelled as Lounsbury in his service records and he reported that he was a native of Victor, Ontario, New York and that his occupation was shoemaker. I trace my line through this family as one of his sons was Marion Francis Lounsbury (also a shoemaker). Marion married Margaret (or Maggie) Louisa Thompson Hall on November 5, 1878 and they had Laura Jennie Lounsbury who married Edward Williams as they eventually moved to Branch County, Michigan. Other children of Marion (with second wife Lilly) were Mary L. Lounsbury, Harry Dubois Lounsbury, Lawrence Leo Lounsbury, and Nellie M. Lounsbury.

- 2) George W. Lounsbury – born in 1837 in New York and married Elmira or Elmina Spearbeck on September 25, 1857 in Jackson Township, Steuben County, Indiana. George and Elmina are the subject of several letters collected and stored in the Indiana Archives during the 1800s. George died after 1910 probably in Steuben County, Indiana.
- 3) Sarah Lounsbury – born in 1839 in New York and married David Rush Callaghan in Henry County, Illinois on August 20, 1855. She died on April 20, 1870 in Orland, Steuben County, Indiana.

If you recognize any of these names or think there may be possible links to the Lounsburys from New York, I would greatly appreciate any assistance with trying to determine who Nehemiah Sr.'s father was (Henry or another Lounsbury) as I see so many repeating similar names; I am sure there is a connection.

Thanks, Jay Williams Williams5204@charter.net

Captain Vernon L. Lounsberry, Photograph Album, 1916

The Special Collections Department, University of West Florida Libraries has an album of photographs attributed to Captain Vernon L. Lounsberry, U.S. Army. The album, 1916, covering service along the Mexican-American border. Comprising 141 photographs showing camp scenes, border patrols, Mexican guards at the International Bridge, Brownsville, Texas; Fort Bliss, and Metamoros, Texas. Lounsberry notes the cause of [his] service was the Pancho Villa raid on Columbus in March, 1916; with additional panoramic photographs of American ships and troops of the American Expeditionary Forces, World War I.

OTHER INFORMATION:

The Pancho Villa raid upon Columbus, New Mexico on March 9, 1916 prompted the U.S. Government to send federal troops into Mexico under the command of General John J. Pershing to try to capture Pancho Villa. Known as "President Wilson's Dirty Little War" the military incursion lasts from 1916-1917.

Editor's Note: I have some suspicions as to who this person might be but cannot be sure and would like further information.

Steven's Adventures

Looking through some old newspaper reports on the internet I ran across reports of an adventurous Lansberry. Young Steven Lansberry then 4 in 1956, first decided to go horse rustling as he had seen on television, He didn't find any horses but somewhere he acquired a bridle. It took his father some time to find the owner and return the bridle.

Some time later he slung a rope over his shoulder and decided to go mountain climbing. Once again a police search was instituted to successfully find him. I wonder what adventures that Steven had later in his life.

The Grandparents That I Never Knew

David Alexander McDougall 10 April. 1880 - 4 April 1950

Abbie Lounsbury 21 Aug 1877 - 12 Aug 1918

by William MacDonald

David Alexander McDougall was born in Dalhousie Township, Lanark County, Ontario. Many of the settlers of Lanark County came from Scotland. John McDougall², David Alexander's grandfather was born in 1818 in Scotland and came to Ontario in 1840. I think that this was an immigration scheme and that they did not know that the area was mostly unsuited for agriculture. In the late 1800's trainloads of people went from Lanark to Manitoba in search of better lands. I do not know exactly when this family went west but one of David's uncles died on the train on the way west in 1893.

In the 1901 Canada Census Portage la Prairie, Manitoba k-3, page 5, an Abbie Lonsbury age 24, born 21 Oct 1876, appears as a servant in the household of E. Albert Batters, also in the same household as a farm servant is a David McDougald age 20 born 6 Apr 1880. I suspect that this is Abbie Lounsbury born 21 Aug 1877 and David McDougall born 10 Apr 1880 and that the information was provided possibly the head of the household incorrectly.

Abbie Lounsbury was born in either Elgin or Norfolk County of Ontario. Some time prior to 1901 she went to Manitoba. I was told that she went there with her brother Cecil, (1 Apr 1882 - 5 May 1948). The picture below is supposed to have been made prior to them going west. Two of the brothers of Robert Murray Lounsbury had already gone to Manitoba. John Winder Lounsbury in 1882 and Thomas Elmer Lounsbury. John Winder was one of the first half dozen settlers in the Treherne area of Manitoba. John Winder made journeys back to Ontario, one in 1890 at which time it is likely that he met with Cecil and Abbie. Whether or not Cecil and Abbie went to either of their uncles in Manitoba is unknown.

Cecil appears in the 1901 Canada Census for Ontario so he was back in Ontario at least for a time. In 1916 he married Ada Evalina Hall (9 Jan 1888 - 29 Jun 1880) in Lynedoch, Norfolk County, Ontario. Their first child was born in Saskatchewan in 1917.

Abbie married David on the November 4, 1906 in Portage la Prairie, Manitoba. They had four children, Alice (9 Aug 1907 - 25 Aug 1986), Murray (11 Nov 1909 - 11 Jan 1980), Lillian (30 Nov 1913 - 31 Oct 2002) and Gordon (1917 - 1917).

In 1917 Abbie and the children left the west to return to her parents in Norfolk County, Ontario. I am told that she had tuberculosis and this was the reason for her return. Tuberculosis was at this time a common and dangerous disease. The youngest child, Gordon died of pneumonia in the train on the trip east. Mother says that she remembers them stopping the train to transfer the body to the baggage car. Gordon was later buried in his grandfather's plot in the cemetery adjacent to what is now a United Church in Cultus, Houghton Township, Norfolk County, Ontario. Gordon's name is not on the gravestone.

Mother says that Abbie was told by a doctor that if she wanted to see her husband again she should return west. She did so and died in Portage la Prairie on the 12th of August 1918 and is buried in Hillside Cemetery, Portage, Section 2, Plot 350, Grave 3 3 41.

Much of the actual work of raising the young family fell to Annie Gertrude Lounsbury (13 Feb 1891 - 4 Aug 1984) a sister of Abbie. Annie did not marry until 1929. Lillian lived with Annie after the death of her grandparents.

Her husband David did come east to see the children, the number of times I do not know. Mother said that he did not get along with Abbie's father.

Murray later went west and joined his father and last lived in the area of Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.
