The Tree is published twice yearly in the spring and fall. As I am not sure as to how long I will continue to publish this newsletter. I am no longer accepting new land mail subscriptions. I will continue the newsletter for the time being and mail existing postal subscriptions without any additional charge and also post them on the blog. I also hope to add additional material on the blog. I would welcome a replacement editor or joint editors. Current subscriptions will continue without additional charge.

Lounsbury Lingo

You will notice a wide variety of surname spellings associated with the Lounsbury Tree. The most common spelling is "Lounsbury" though "Lounsberry" and "Lounsbery" are also prevalent. In 99% of researched cases, Canadians and Americans with these surname spellings are linked by common ancestors: Richard Lounsbury and Elizabeth (Pennoyer) Lounsbury of what is now Rye, NY, who were married there in 1670. There are many other surname variations who fit our extended family tree, including Lansbury (though apparently not the famous actress Angela Lansbury), Lainspeary, and Lonsberry.

For simplicity, we use the letter "L" to denote the surname regardless of its spelling. Hence the phrasing "L" Tree at the top of this page.

EDITOR'S NOTE - Beverly Graham recently travelled to Yorkshire and carried out research on the L---b--Y family there. The following material is an excerpt from one of the two articles which she has prepared, with some minimal help from the editor. The articles are too lengthy to insert in the Tree . They have been placed on the blog <http://lounsbury-tree.blogspot.ca>.

Lownsborough/Lownsbrough Family in Hackness Parish Records

The Hackness Parish Records are held in the East Riding of Yorkshire Archives, County Hall, in the city of Beverley: Register of baptisms, marriages and burials PE131/1 1567-1653 and Register of baptisms, marriages and burials PE131/2 1653-1783.

The photographs of our ancestor's records, that I obtained from the original parish registers, on my visit, are protected by copyright and permission to display them on a website is not permissible. The following records match the original hand written records. They can also be obtained from Ancestry.com and <http://archive.org/details/registerofparish25hack> which is a digitized copy of The Register of the Parish of Hackness, Co. York, 1557-1783, transcribed by the Rev. Charles Johnstone and Miss. Emily J. Hart, Privately Printed for the Yorkshire Parish Register Society, Vol. XXV, (1906). George Lownsborough and Agnes Murton were married on 6 December 1614, Hackness Parish, North Yorkshire, England. They are likely not the grandparents of Richard Lownsbrough, baptized 9 November 1634, Hackness Parish, North Riding, Yorkshire, England who married Elizabeth Penryer (Pennoyer), 1 August 1690. The reason for this is presented below.

It is possible for Richard, b. 1619, s/o George, to be the father of Richard, b. 1634. It is not likely that this Richard, b. 1619 was the father of Marie b. 1630 at 11 years of age and then John b. 1632. Marie and John are both older siblings of Richard, b. 1634.

Other Lownsbrough Records

I looked carefully in the two volumes of records 1567-1783 and found no possible death records for George and Agnes, nor any death record for Richard Lownsbrough. There are no other birth records for a Richard other than the 1619 record and 1634 record. As expected – they are not available online either. The records for Hackness Parish appear to be incomplete with omissions.

At first, I was excited, when I read the following!

Eliza Lownsbrough of Harwood dale dyed the xvth (15th) May and buried the next day

Text:	Eliza Lownsbrough of Harwood dale dyed 15 May 1655 bur. 16 May 1655
Book:	Volume 2. 1653-1785.
Collection:	Yorkshire: Hackness - Parish Registers (Christenings, Marriages & Burials):

1557-1785

The Eliza Lownsbrough death and burial record above is likely not the wife of Richard b. 1619. Eliza above is possibly the wife of William Lownsbrough of Harwood dale who dyed xxx (30th) Mar bur. firste day of April 1660. Eliza's death and burial record does not state that Eliza is the w/o Richard nor William. Harwood Dale is about 3¼ miles north of the village of Hackness in the Parish of Hackness. After the death of Lady Margaret Hoby in 1633, her husband built a chapel at Harwood Dale in her memory. The Lownsbrough family would have been tenant farmers of the estate owners of Hackness Parish – the Hoby Family (1589-1640) and then the Sydenham Family (1640-1795).

Text: John Dickinson of Broxey, wheelwright and Marie Lownsbrough the daughter of Elizab. Lownsbrough widd: both of Broxey and of this Parish were published The first tyme 03 Oct 1657 the second time 10 Oct 1657 and the Third time 17 Oct 1657

Book: Volume 2. 1653-1785.

Collection: Yorkshire: Hackness - Parish Registers (Christenings, Marriages & Burials): 1557-1785

The third bann was published 17 October 1657 d/o Elizab. Lownsbrough widd. John Dickinson and Marie Lownsbrough's marriage is more than one year later - 16 November 1658. It is not usual for a marriage to be delayed one year later when the distance from Broxa to Hackness is only about 1.5 miles. There is no mention of Elizab. Lownsbrough on the marriage record of Marie and John Dickinson. Elizabeth likely died in the year after the banns and before the marriage. Elizabeth's death is not recorded in the Hackness Parish Register.

Text: John Dickinson, wheelwright and Marie Lownsbrough both of Broxey were married 16 Nov 1658 by Mr. Francis Proude minr.(Curate) in Hacknes Church in the presence of John Harland, Thomas Keld, William Warde and diverse other witnesses

Book: Volume 2. 1653-1785.

Collection: Yorkshire: Hackness - Parish Registers (Christenings, Marriages & Burials): 1557-1785

1658

John Dickinson, wheelwright and Marie Lownsbrough both of Broxey were married the xvjth day of November by Mr. Francis Proude minr. in Hacknes Church in the presence of John Harland, Thomas Keld, William Warde and diverse other witnesses

According to the research of Raymond Lounsbury, "John Dickinson continued to pay the rent each year until 1674 when the payment was made in the name of Marie Dickinson. It must therefore be assumed that John Dickinson was deceased by this date. Probably Marie was also dead by 1690 because her name does not appear in the rent rolls on or after that date."

John Dickinson, h/o Marie, possibly not deceased until 2 April 1677. Payment made in the name of Marie Dickinson – not listed as widd [a widow] so husband possibly not deceased.

Text: John Dickinson of Broxa was buried 02 Apr 1677

Book: Volume 2. 1653-1785.

Collection: Yorkshire: Hackness - Parish Registers (Christenings, Marriages & Burials): 1557-1785

This death record could also possibly be for the son of John Dickinson, John, who was baptized 16 March 1667. Although; death and burial records for children were recorded with 'sonne of' or 'daughter of' or 'child of' written in the record.

Other Dickinson Family Records

The Dickinson 1656 death records below are possibly the parents of John Dickinson, h/o Marie Lownsbrough, d/o Elizab. and Richard Lownsbrough.

John Dickinson of Broxey dyed xxth of August bur. xxjth day
Ann Dickinson his wyffe dyed the xxxth of August early in the morneinge and was buryed in the afternoon of the same day

John Dickinson (1628 – 1677) m. 16 Nov 1658 Marie Lownsbrough d/o Richard and Elizabeth Lownsbrough

Children of Marie (Lownsbrough) and John Dickinson:

Text: Marie the daughter of John Dickinson of Broxey, wheelwright, was baptized 22 Dec 1661

Book: Volume 2. 1653-1785.

Collection: Yorkshire: Hackness - Parish Registers (Christenings, Marriages & Burials): 1557-1785

Text: John the sonne of John Dickinson of Broxey bapt. 15 Mar 1667

Book: Volume 2. 1653-1785.

Collection: Yorkshire: Hackness - Parish Registers (Christenings, Marriages & Burials): 1557-1785

Text: Jaine the dau. of John Dickinson of Broxey bapt. 25 Jun 1671

Book: Volume 2. 1653-1785.

Collection: Yorkshire: Hackness - Parish Registers (Christenings, Marriages & Burials): 1557-1785

Conclusions: 1. Raymond H. Lounsbury has recorded Richard Lownsbrough b. 1634, s/o Richard and Elizabeth as our ancestor. There are no records available to prove who Richard and Elizabeth's ancestors were. 2. According to the research of Raymond Lounsbury, Elizabeth died before 1659. "Richard Lownsbrough was dead by 1650. For the year 1650-1, the 'Rents and Tithes,' amounting to lli. 9s. 10d. paid for the use of the Broxa lands were charged to 'Elizabeth Lownsbrough Widow.' Elizabeth herself was dead by 1659. From May 20, 1658, until the end of March, 1659, the rents and tithes were charged to her son-in-law, John Dickinson, with this notation: 'Widd Lounsb: mort'." Elizabeth Lownsbrough w/o Richard possibly died before 16 November 1658; because, she is not recorded on the marriage record of her daughter, Marie, to John Dickinson.

Did cousin Aaron mean to kill Alexander

After the painting by J. Munsell

Aaron Burr Jr. was the third Vice-President of the United States under Thomas Jefferson. At that time the Vice-President was directly elected.

Aaron was the second cousin once removed of Elizabeth Pinckney (1767 - 1844) wife of Robert Lounsbury (1766 - 1821). Aaron's grandmother was also named Elizabeth Pinckney (1675 - 1722).

Aaron Burr was born in 1756 in New Jersey. He was the son of Aaron Burr, Sr. — the second president of Princeton as well as the grandson of Jonathan Edwards. He graduated at 16 from the College of New Jersey [which later became Princeton University] as a student of theology. He eventually switched his career track to study law.

Burr began his military service as a volunteer around 1775. He served as a volunteer during Benedict Arnold's "March to Quebec" [September 13 — November 9, 1775]. He is actually credited with trying to evacuate the body of General Richard Montgomery after he was killed in action during the invasion. He joined the staff of George Washington in 1776 when he was sent to New York City. He and General Washington apparently did not get along and he left a few weeks later. On June 22 he became an aide-de-camp to General Putnam eventually seeing action in the Battle of Long Island and the evacuation of New York City. He was commissioned Lieutenant Colonel of Malcolm's Regiment on January 4, 1777. He was stationed at Orange County, New York, essentially the commander of the Regiment at the age of 21!

He spent the winter of 1777-1778 at Valley Forge where he was almost involved with the Conway Cabal. After evacuating with the army on June 19, 1778, he commanded a brigade during Monmouth. After the action there, he openly supported General Charles Lee — whom Washington had reprimanded upon finding him retreating from battle. Burr commanded his regiment following the Monmouth Campaign in Westchester County, New York.

Aaron Burr resigned on March 3, 1779 citing ill health. By the fall of the following year, he resumed his career as a student of law. In 1782, he married Mrs. Theodosia Bartow Prevost, the widow of a British officer who was also ten years older than him. They had one daughter, Theodosia, in 1783, who subsequently died at sea in 1813. Aaron Burr and his wife were married for twelve years, when she passed away.

Burr was a very successful attorney. He moved to New York in 1783 and shared a practice with Alexander Hamilton. His attempts in politics generally ended in failure. A success came when George Clinton, Governor of New York named him Attorney General in 1789. In 1791 he was elected a senator of New York State, he served six years and later won a seat in the state legislature when he was not re-elected to the Senate. After the loss of his seat in the legislature in 1799, he began to organize the Democratic Party in New York City. The group became a political powerhouse that could ensure the election of a democratic President. The ticket was to be Thomas Jefferson as President and Aaron Burr as Vice-President. The wrangling of the "politicos" ended in a draw — both men received seventy-three electoral votes each. Jefferson and Burr were not really fond of one another and in New York — Alexander Hamilton decided to use his weight and influence to support Thomas Jefferson — who was elected. As Vice President, Aaron Burr presided over the Senate and he eventually was nominated in 1804 to the governorship of New York, but lost to Republican Morgan Lewis. Each loss he blamed on Alexander Hamilton's political and personal machinations. On July 11, 1804 — Burr and Hamilton met at ten paces at Weehawken. Both fired and Hamilton fell, mortally wounded. Burr stayed in his position in Jefferson's administration.

CHARLES RICHARD LOUNSBURY, a resident of Kendal at Ithaca, formerly of Trumansburg, passed away at the age of 96 on Wednesday, June 6, 2012. He was born April 24, 1916, to Charles Richard Lounsbury and Annie Laurie Thomas Lounsbury in Brooktondale, NY. He was the youngest of seven children. Charlie graduated from Ithaca High School in 1933. He studied at Cornell University, the University of Connecticut, NYU, the Grand Central School of Art, and the Art Students League of New York. During World War II, he worked in the engineering department at Pratt & Whitney in East

Hartford, CT as a mechanical draftsman. He also worked in the combustion engineering field in New York, detailing parts for commercial stokers and boilers. In the late 1940s, he was hired at the West 34th Street office of J.C. Penney to do architectural drafting as part of their window modernization program for stores throughout the country. He later became Registrar at Turtle Bay Music School in New York. He called those the best years of his life, and worked there for ten years until his retirement. After returning to this area, he honored his farming roots and became a member of the Searsburg Grange. He was active with both the Trumansburg and Caroline Senior Citizens, and was a member of the Liberty Hyde Bailey Garden Club. His gardening expertise was legendary. He loved that his orchids and other beautiful flowering plants lining the windows at Kendal were enjoyed by so many. Staying active was very important to him and he practiced t'ai chi for many years. He had a wide range of interests, including music, theater, politics, and cooking. Charlie firmly believed that learning never stopped. He was fascinated with how the brain works, and with human interactions in general. Setting aside time to enjoy life and "smell the roses" was a priority.

Charlie often expressed the thought that each day was a gift to be cherished and shared with his many, many friends and family. As one of his nephews wrote, "Charlie's pies were second to none. Saying he had a green thumb was like saying Shakespeare wrote pretty good sonnets or that Gershwin was handy with a tune. He loved opera, hated beer, and didn't suffer bad politicians. His taste in ties was impeccable and he sported the most magnificent eyebrows. He gently and persuasively convinced us of the beauty of a cold November day and made friends faster than anyone on the planet."

Charlie is survived by nieces and nephews, John Wallace, Deer Park, NY, Peter Hutchings, New York, NY, Sarah Hutchings Taber, San Francisco, CA, Hilda Lounsbery Shepard, Watkinsville, GA, Ann Lounsbery Owens, Seattle, WA, Lois Lounsbery, Brooktondale, NY, John Lounsbery, Santa Rosa, CA, and Jim Albertson, Longmont, CO; as well as many great and great-great nieces and nephews. Darel Ranney Lounsbury was born on December 9, 1923, on the family farm in Union Grove Township. He was one of 13 children born to Russell and Carol (Ranney) Lounsbury. He grew up on the family farm where he graduated from a country grade school. In 1944, Darel entered the United States Army. He served with the 25th Division 35th Infantry in the Philippines. In 1946, Darel was honorably discharged from the Army and returned home to farm.

On December 6, 1947 Darel was united in marriage to Ruth Layman at Richfield Lutheran Church. This union was blessed with three daughters and a son. The family made their home in Union Grove Township, rural Paynesville where Darel farmed and milked cows. He continued farming until 1984 when he retired. After his retirement, he continued to live on the farm and help his daughter and son-in-law with their farm. On November 25, 1993, Ruth passed away, they shared 45 years of marriage. In 2007, Darel moved into Paynesville where he lived until his death. Darel was a member of Nordland Lutheran Church, rural Paynesville. He was a member of the Eden Valley American Legion for over 60 years, NFO, Manannah Sno-Blazers, and Manannah Cemetery Board. Darel loved playing the accordion. He would go to the Good Samaritan Home once a week to play for the residents for many years. He also enjoyed fishing, bowling, snowmobiling, dancing, camping, and following the Vikings and Twins. He loved his family and his grandchildren will never forget all the time he spent with them. He will be remembered for being kind, gentle, patient and a man very slow to anger.
